

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. Now blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Mrs. Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

WINE OF CARDUI

Missouri an Open Book.

BY S. M. FRANK.

"St. Louis—Well, it is not the creek I was born on I am not a Missourian! Who would have thought that little stream that runs away out past Nowhere would ever be on a map of Missouri?"

These words from the lips of a prominent Missouri newspaper man as he stood in the Missouri building at the fair before the largest map of his state ever made were uttered with a feeling of mingled pride and surprise.

It has long been known that the Exposition company is very partial to things big. Early in the history of the undertaking it was decided that in order to make the enterprise popular with the masses something more than fine exhibits and beautiful effects had to be boasted of. So it was decided that this fair must be the biggest from every point of view ever attempted. The Missouri commission followed the same idea in preparing its exhibits, and many months ago arranged to have on display the largest maps of Missouri in the world.

It was found that these maps were already in the course of preparation. Mr. C. F. Marbut, professor of Geology at the University of Missouri, had been collecting data and general information for the production of such maps for the last ten or twelve years. He was assigned the task of preparing the maps.

The result is that five topographical maps, fourteen by sixteen feet, the most accurate and detailed of any of their kind, have been prepared by the students of the University of Missouri under the direction of Prof. Marbut and are now on exhibition in different buildings of the fair. These maps, of so much value to the student and the man of business, are colored to show the various features of geographical and economic interest. The horizontal scale of the maps is about two miles to the inch; the vertical scale is about a thousand feet to the inch. The data on which the relief work is based was gathered from all published sources, but mostly from research work done by the geological students at the State University under the direction of Prof. Marbut and Student Assistant Otto Veatch. The various topographical characteristics of the state have been faithfully and accurately reproduced in miniature—a most difficult task. The various stages of dissection, from even plains to thoroughly and deeply dissected regions, the width of river and creek valleys, and elevations are all carefully shown.

All the facts from the sources named were collected and converted into a contour map of the state or the same scale as the relief map. A relief map in sections made of cardboard and modeling clay was made from this contour map. Gelatine negatives were cast from these sections and plaster positives were cast from the negatives. The positives were trimmed, smoothed and compared with the contour map. From these completed positive sections a final negative was cast, from which the five relief maps were molded in two sections each. The final positives were further trimmed and smoothed before they were colored and lettered. These maps, produced with so much expense and labor, were finished as follows:

The first map, which is installed in Model Library of the Missouri building, was finished merely as a general political map of the state. It shows the cities, towns, and postoffices, the railway lines, county lines, and names of rivers and most creeks.

The second map, installed in the Palace of Agriculture, was colored to show the agricultural soil of the state. It shows ten classes of soil, the classification being based partly on origin and derivation of the soil, and partly on productivity.

The third map, installed in the Palace of Horticulture, is arranged to show the fruit soils of the state. Two areas or belts are shown in which fruit growing on a commercial scale is possible, and another in which fruit growing for home use or for special markets alone is advised. The map is colored on the authority of J. C. Whitten, Professor of Horticulture in the University of Missouri, and Mr. L. A. Goodman, Secretary of the Missouri State Horticultural Society.

The fourth map, on display in the Palace of Mines and Metallurgy, was colored to show the geological formations of the state and the mining districts. The rocks of the whole state are differentiated into twenty-four formations, a number twice as large as any that have been placed on a similar map of the state. This is the first time that any attempt has been made to differentiate the various geological formations that appear in the Ozark region of Missouri, and as a result the main structural lines of the state are well brought out.

The fifth map, in the beautiful and elaborate exhibit of the University of Missouri in the Palace of Education, is also colored to show the distributions of the geological formations. It is very much the same as the fourth map, but does not show the various mining camps, and is slightly more detailed in its geology.

The labor of making the maps, aside from the painting done by Mr. A. H. Glass of Columbia, has been performed wholly by students of the University of Missouri. Aside from the knowledge, energy, and skill of Prof. Marbut, it is to the keen interest in the work that was taken by the students, that the success is due.

State Fair.

The champion herds of cattle, both beef and dairy breeds, those that are winners at all the state and international shows, will be at the Missouri State Fair at Sedalia, August 15-19. The state fair is the initial meeting of the state fair circuit, and precedes the live stock show in St. Louis. Herds intended for these great events will appear in public for the first time this season at Sedalia. The contest for supremacy will be the greatest in the history of cattle shows. Each herd will be in the pink of condition, and the kings and queens of the show ring will be clothed in coats of velvet and fine linen. Judges of international reputation have been secured to pass upon this hotly contested event. Every Missourian interested in cattle, either improved strains or for the feed lot, should see the grand display.

That Tired Feeling

Is a Common Spring Trouble.

It's a sign that the blood is deficient in vitality, just as pimples and other eruptions are signs that the blood is impure.

It's a warning, too, which only the hazardous fail to heed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove it, give new life, new courage, strength and animation.

They cleanse the blood and clear the complexion.

"I felt tired all the time and could not sleep. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a while I could sleep well and the tired feeling had gone. This great medicine has also cured me of scrofula." Mrs. C. M. Boor, Gilead, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Why he Favors Roosevelt.

Following is the full text of a rather remarkable and interesting letter by a Washington, D. C., negro published a few days ago in the Washington Post:

Editor Post: As a colored man I wish to call attention to the difference between the Republican and the Democratic National conventions. At the Republican convention the colored man was treated as a companion, friend and brother. There he was made to feel as if he were not only a political, but a social equal. The delegates followed the advice and example of our beloved president, Theodore Roosevelt, who teaches that the colored man deserves to be treated as a social equal. To emphasize this fact, he had the courage to have at his table Prof. Booker T. Washington. If Roosevelt is elected it will so encourage the colored man that he will demand that Prof. Booker Washington shall be the republican candidate for vice-president in 1908.

"Let not my colored brethren forget that scene in the Republican convention when a beautiful white girl was placed upon the stage and by her side a negro boy. They then placed flags in their hands and allowed them to lead the cheering, thus making the first and grandest example of the equality of the races that history records.

"In the Democratic convention there was not a single colored man. It was in word and deed a white man's convention of a white man's party. All hail to Roosevelt, who has given the poor negro so much to encourage him to persist in his political and social rights." —HENRY S. BAKER.

Missouri University at the State Fair.

This year the University of Missouri will have the most complete and comprehensive educational exhibit ever shown at the Missouri State Fair. An attempt will be made to make the exhibit educational as well as attractive. Several striking things will be presented. A collection of diseased fruits and vegetables will be shown and an attendant will describe these diseases and point out the best methods of preventing them. Eighty kinds of wheat grown as nearly as possible on the same kind of soil will give an idea of the productivity of the different varieties. A daily demonstration of the best means of separating and testing milk and of making cheese and butter will be given. A series of tubes will show a method of testing soils that can be used by any intelligent farmer.

I can give it unqualified recommendation." 25c, 50c, $1.00. For sale by Crenshaw & Young 8-6ml

The New York Herald on Roosevelt.

In its leading editorial on July 29, the New York Herald says:

"Three years of Mr. Roosevelt as president have cleared away all illusions as to his ideals. His conduct in the 'floating' of the Panama R-public, his ruthless disregard of public sentiment to the South, his dictatorial assumption of authority in every department of the public service have sufficed to show the people that his ideal of government is imperialism, that he regards brute force as the equivalent of right and his will as the equivalent of legality.

"Are these qualities desirable in a President of the United States? This is the question the American people will be called upon to answer at the polls."

"The people will have to decide. "Mr. Roosevelt represents imperialism. Judge Parker represents Democracy as it was understood by our forefathers, the signers of the Declaration of Independence, as it was understood by the men who fought for that independence and as it should be understood by us who have inherited that independence."

Woman Wins $2,500.

Toledo, O., July 21. (Special)—Probably no one was more surprised than was Mrs. Herbert Tetlow, Washingtonville, Ohio, when the postmaster delivered to her an envelope containing a certified check for $2,500, signed by the Woolson Spice Company, of Toledo, Ohio.

This good fortune is the result of an estimate made by Mrs. Tetlow in accordance with the Lion Coffee premium offer to those coming the nearest to estimating the Fourth of July attendance at the World's Fair.

The total paid attendance at the St. Louis Exposition on July 4th was 139,659.

As Mrs. Tetlow's estimate was exactly correct, she was given first reward. Mrs. Tetlow sent in only six estimates.

M. K. Hassinger, Lamona, Pa., received the second prize of $1,000. E. B. Roseboom, Frankfort, O., and James Ashcroft, Raleigh, N. C., each received $500 prizes. In all, 2,139 prizes, amounting to $20,000, were awarded.

Throughout the last six months Woolson Spice Company has been publishing in the leading newspapers of America an offer of $50,000 in cash prizes. The $20,000 just awarded is in their World's Fair contest. Another $20,000 will be given in the same way to those who make the best estimates of the total presidential vote to be cast next November. Lion Head trademarks are being eagerly sought after, some persons offering to pay as much as 5 cents apiece for them.

HERBINE

Herbines the blood more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and the over-indulgence in food and drink. Herbines acts quickly, a dose after meals will bring the patient into a good condition in a few days.

G. L. Caldwell, Agent M. K. & T. R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured when my druggist advised me to use Herbines. It has made me sound and well." 50c. For sale by Crenshaw & Young. 8-6ml
